

Hawaiian Volcano Observatory 2015 Volcano Awareness Month—“At-a-Glance” Schedule

“After Dark in the Park” Programs ♦ 7:00 p.m.

Kīlauea Visitor Center, Hawai‘i Volcanoes National Park

Presentations are free, but Park entrance fees apply.

Directions: <http://www.nps.gov/havo/planyourvisit/directions.htm>

More info: (808) 985-6011 -or- askHVO@usgs.gov -or- (808) 967-8844.

Tuesdays

January 6

Updates on Kīlauea Volcano's Two Eruptions: Pu‘u ‘Ō‘ō and Halema‘uma‘u

Matt Patrick
USGS Hawaiian Volcano Observatory Geologist

January 13

Kīlauea’s Dual Personality: A Historical Perspective

Don Swanson
USGS Hawaiian Volcano Observatory Geologist

January 20

Watching Mauna Loa Shake

Paul Okubo
USGS Hawaiian Volcano Observatory Seismologist

January 27

Pāhoehoe Lava: The Ebb and Flow of Molten Rock

Ken Hon and Cheryl Gansecki
University of Hawai‘i at Hilo Volcanologists

Ka‘ū Talk ♦ 6:30 p.m.

Ocean View Community Center, Hawaiian Ocean View Estates

*More info: askHVO@usgs.gov
or (808) 967-8844.*

Wednesday, January 14

Updates on Hawai‘i’s Two Most Active Volcanoes: Kīlauea and Mauna Loa

Frank Trusdell
USGS Hawaiian Volcano
Observatory Geologist

Kona Talk ♦ 6:30 p.m.

Maka‘eo Pavilion at the Old Kona Airport State Park, Kailua-Kona

*More info: askHVO@usgs.gov
or (808) 967-8844.*

Wednesday, January 28

Updates on Hawai‘i’s Active Volcanoes: Kīlauea, Mauna Loa, and Hualālai

Frank Trusdell
USGS Hawaiian Volcano
Observatory Geologist

University of Hawaii at Hilo ♦ 7:00 p.m.

Room 100, University Classroom Building (Building 301)

Campus Map: http://hilo.hawaii.edu/images/maps/main_campus_map.pdf

More info: askHVO@usgs.gov -or- (808) 967-8844.

Wednesday

January 7

Updates on Hawai‘i’s Two Most Active Volcanoes: Kīlauea and Mauna Loa

Mike Poland
USGS Hawaiian Volcano Observatory Volcanologist

Pāhoehoe Community Meetings

HVO scientists will participate in meetings about Kīlauea’s active lava flow as scheduled. Dates and times will be announced by Hawai‘i County via local media.

VAM presentations are free and open to the public.

Detailed descriptions are posted on HVO’s website: <http://hvo.wr.usgs.gov>